STAGE E

Stage E's 26,040 square feet has everything you need for a major film or video production. From the Marx Brothers antics of the 30s to today's Angels in America, Stage E has enjoyed a world class reputation. The largest stage east of Hollywood, Stage E is fully air conditioned, and features a state of the art control room, a full compliment of production support facilities, and an array of dressing rooms and offices. Stage E can satisfy the needs of any style, type or size of production.
